Answer

Shipco Transport Inc v Jem Logistics Inc, and Andi Georgescu, an individual d/b/a Jem Logistics Inc.

Docket No. 12-06

The above named respondent , for answer to the complaint in this proceedings, states :

The decisions and the letters sent by your office are sent to the wrong company . We are not Jem Logistics Inc and we have no affiliation with Jem Logistics Inc., therefore please check again with the Complainant and please direct these decisions to the right company . I, Andi Georgescu , was an employee of Jem Logistics Inc, not ever doing business as a D/B/A and I haven't been working for that company for at least 3 years . I also do not recall misrepresenting any identity as stated in this docket under Jem Logistics Inc , so please try to redirect these complaints to the right full owners .

Subject: Re: FW: answer for Docket No: 12-06

Mr. Georgescu,

Can you please confirm that by your email and "Answer" sent Thursday, April 4th you are petitioning the Commission to set aside the decision on default, as provided for in Commission rule 46 C.F.R 502.65, which reads in pertinent part:

§ 502.65 Decision on default.

* * * * *

(d) A respondent who has defaulted may file with the Commission a petition to set aside a decision on default. Such a petition must be made within 22 days of the service date of the decision, state in detail the reasons for failure to appear or defend, and specify the nature of the proposed defense. In order to prevent injustice, the Commission may for good cause shown set aside a decision on default. [Rule 65.]

If you are petitioning the Commission to set aside the decision on default, Shipco may respond within 15 days, pursuant to 46 C.F.R.502.70, our rule on dispositive motions.

I will await your response.
